

Outline of Ginsburg Symposium

Friday January 11, 2019

Location RSMAS Auditorium

January 11th, 2019

- 08:30-08:45 Introduction- Peter K. Swart
- 08:45-09:25 Gene Shinn - Life and Death in Florida Bay. (It's all about African Dust)
- 09:25-10:00 Erica Suosaari- Stromatolites - So what?!
- 10:00-10:30 Break
- 10:30-11:10 Paul Enos- Florida Bay: ¿Modern analogue for Lofer cycles?
- 11:10-11:45 Noah Planavsky- Making Sense of Massive Carbon Isotope Excursions
- 11:45- 12:15 Noel James- Robert Ginsburg: Pioneer Reef Submariner
- 12:15-13:30 Lunch in Commons
- 13:30-14:00 Ellen Prager- From Mud Slogging to Word Choices: The Unforgettable and Impactful Bob Ginsburg
- 14:00-14:30 Paul Hoffman- Carbonates, Bahama Banks, and the rise of Precambrian geology
- 14:30-15:00 Eberhard Gischler- Carbonate cementation and sedimentation in the Blue Hole: expressions of changing environmental conditions during the late Quaternary
- 15:00-15:30 Break
- 15:30-16:05 Joe Kirschvink- Origin of the carbonate muds in the inner lagoons of Palau from abrasion by the magnetic teeth of the chitons
- 16:05-16:40 Flavio Anselmetti- Investigating lacustrine sediments inspired by a 'comparative' marine perspective
- 16:40-17:15 Judith Lang-Robert Ginsburg: The AGRRA Legacy